In the post box this week....

This week we have been thinking about what we most desire and what we're grateful for...

I tend to desire quite a lot; my Christmas list tends to fill about a page and a half but really I just want to have a happy family, friends and a roof over my head.

Am I grateful? Well sort of, but then if I did not have what I have, I would probably not be! The thing is though, I always seem to look on the wrong side of things, always wanting more - so I probably should be more grateful.

I desire many of the things I already have really, but I do still have to hope I lose some of my mad temper!

Maddy, Abbot, 5P

I desire God the most because he is the only thing I love apart from my family.

I am grateful, well at least that's what I think! When my mum makes me a meal, I say thank you afterwards then get down.

I want to go to heaven and live an immortal life with God and my family so we can be together for ever and ever.

Hannah, Wey, 3L

Make hay while the sun shines!

At last, we have a slice of summer! The weather this week has been amazing and it's so nice to be able to use the field again. Whilst I am on the subject, please can you make sure the children have a water bottle, a hat and if possible get a bit of sun tan lotion on them when they come to school. It's really easy to get burnt in this weather without knowing it and we don't want the children to have an uncomfortable time in school.

Whilst I am on the subject of requests, please can you refrain from bringing any dogs onto the school premises at the end of the day. Last week a young child was bitten outside Mr Day's room by a Jack Russell and it's really not appropriate for dogs to be brought onto the site. If you are bringing dogs to school please can you arrange to meet your child in a safe place outside the school gates.

This week we have been thinking about materialism and valuing what are our true possessions. We had a chat about it in assembly and I told the children I thought love was the one thing in life we couldn't live without. I have to say I got some funny looks from the children and I suspect they thought I had gone soppy. Remember what the Beatles said 'Love is all you need.' Anyway, I digress, we are looking at a different recycling process every week and this week it was electrical goods. I was shocked when I compiled my 'Top Five Facts' to discover that we throw away 6 million electrical items a year and more than half of them are either working or could be easily repaired. How very wasteful we are as a race.

Well that's the end for this week and I haven't mentioned anyone from Ofsted or the DFE, Whoops! You will also be getting the letter today about staff changes which I've gone on about for a while. We are having collections for all the staff that are leaving so please contact the office if you'd like to contribute.

It only remains for me to say we hope you have a great weekend and enjoy the sun.

Mr B & the QE Staff

From the School office....

Phoenix Cards... Mrs Loch would be very grateful if you could return any Phoenix catalogues to school as they can be re-used. Many thanks!

Arriving at school... A reminder that the school gates are opened at 8.35am and that children arriving before that time are unsupervised. Please don't drop off your child before this time as we cannot guarantee their safety.

Tissue appeal... yes its another tissue appeal! With the Hay Fever season now underway, we are once again getting through large amounts of tissues in class. We would be very grateful for boxes of tissues to supplement our bulk orders. If your child is a hay fever sufferer, it might be worth giving them small packs of tissues to keep in school.
