In the post box this week....

This week we have been thinking about what makes us at peace.....

Things like the shoe-laces on my trainers make me angry in life because as soon as I've tied them up, they untie themselves again (I'm not very good at tying shoe-laces!) Another thing that makes me angry (I'm sure everyone says this) is my annoying little brother, (BOTHER more like!) because he is forever singing and annoying me.

When I have some peace I read a book or (mad I know), talk to my hamster about it.

The reason why there isn't peace in the World is because as soon as one person gets angry they blame it on some one else and that person does something back to the other. It's a bit like a man who chops a bit off a table leg but chops off too much so then has to chop bits off the other legs and so it goes on until there is no more table.

Pretty silly really!

Carroll Year 5

Over at last.....!

At last the SATs are finally over and the Year 6 children can breathe a huge sigh of relief. It's been a tough week, especially for those Year 6 children who have also taken the Level 6 tests and they have been 'SAT-ing' all morning. The children did a great job and should be very proud of how hard they have worked during their time at QE. We now have the play to look forward to and then the residential trip to the Isle of Wight. What a fabulous rest of term they are going to have!

The picture above is of the Year 6 children working on their cereal project. They have to create their own design for a new cereal and as you can see, it looks a lot of fun. I know the teachers are loving it too!

Due to SATS, we have not had any assemblies this week so the Thoughtful Time in the Postbox is last week's. We will be back with Metal Fruit on Monday and are looking at "Faith". Our piece of armour is the Shield of Faith and I have been thinking about that a lot this week. In life there are plenty of occasions when we have our faith tested. I know I certainly have, and it's those times when we really learn the true meaning of faith. It certainly doesn't hurt to have a reminder every now and then!

I want to say a huge thank you to all of you who supported the Summer Fayre. It was a great success and I am really pleased with the amount of money we are likely to have raised. I told the PSA I wouldn't let on just yet as they are keen to write to you themselves but I will say the amount of money will do a significant amount of good at QE. The PSA have done an amazing job and the hours of time involved in planning meant we had an amazing Fayre. I also want to thank the children, staff and governors who turned up to help. Mr Day and I loved our soaking and I can reveal we made £150 in the time we were getting sponged. All for a good cause and I have to say Mr Day is a great sport. I am not sure a lot of Deputy Headteachers would have done what he did!

It only remains for me to wish you all a peaceful and enjoyable weekend. Hopefully we will get some nice weather!

From Mr Blackburn & the QE Staff

From the PSA....

PSA Summer Fayre...A huge thank you to all who helped to make our Fayre a success last Saturday. We will let you know the final amount raised once we have deducted all the expenses (please send any outstanding claims in as soon as possible). We must also thank Seymours Estate Agents for kindly sponsoring the Bouncy Castle at the Fayre.

Can you help?...We are still looking for a willing person to do an independent review of the PSA accounts. This has to be done for the Charity Commission which states that "Any person with financial awareness and numeracy skills should be competent to act as an independent examiner provided they have read and understood our publication Independent Examination of Charity Accounts: Examiners' Guide (CC32) and apply it when reviewing a set of receipts and payments accounts." Please contact Jen Longley, PSA Treasurer, on 850167 if you think you could help.

Can you help?....

We need boxes with lids, ie shoe boxes, and also old board games (with all their parts please!) for one of our Day of Difference activities . Please send them into class 3H before the 5th July. Many thanks!
