In the post box this week....

This week we have been thinking about controlling our tongue so we do not hurt others.

Are you good at controlling your tongue?

No, not at all. My tongue says very mean things that I don't mean and I know my words hurt a lot of people. But my tongue can also make people feel very happy and it can say lovely things too.

Do you let the words of others hurt you? No, no I don't because I do a really bad thing, I just shout something meaner back and hide that inside my heart is crying and going soft.

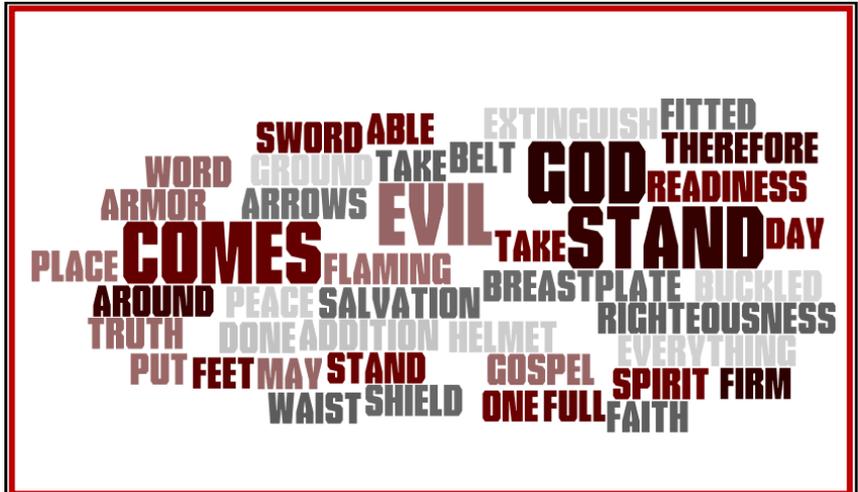

Is it hard to control yourself?

Yes, a lot! I just break loose and go mad!

Abbot, Year 4

Watch your tongue!

It's been one of those weeks in school which seems to have gone on and on and on. Some weeks are like that, whereas others appear so short they're over before you know it. The children have been busy working on their topics and the Year 6 children have been busily practising their play. I haven't seen any of it yet but I have heard snippets of the singing and that has sounded amazing. I am very much looking forward to it!

In Thoughtful Time this week we have been thinking about controlling ourselves and trying to make sure we do not upset others with the things we say. I, like many of you I'm sure, have been on the end of some pretty hurtful things in my time and it always reminds me that we have to try really hard sometimes to hold our tongues. This is the theme of the week and we've been telling the children why it's important not to hurt others with the things they say. Of course, it's a very difficult thing for us all to do but we need to try to make sure we do our best not to upset others as we make our way through life.

We are rapidly approaching our end of year parental survey and are hoping to beat our total from last year of 82. We have about 200 families so we are aiming for over 100 responses this time around. We will be sending out the link next week so please take some time to complete it if you can.

I have been writing my Headteacher's report for the upcoming Governing Body meeting later this month and have been reflecting on what a brilliant year it has been. We've packed a great deal in so far and there's still lots to do before the Summer holidays! It is amazing how much we manage to fit into a school year and I am sure next year will also be equally as busy with an extra class in Year 3.

It only remains for me to wish you all a peaceful and enjoyable weekend.
Mr Blackburn & the QE Staff

From the PSA....

PSA Disco...Our next School Disco will take place on Friday 19th July. Look out for details nearer the time.

From the School Office....

School Uniform Update...A reminder that from this coming Monday, the 17th June, you will be able to purchase QE school uniform from the Marks and Spencer website, our new uniform supplier. We are sending home today, a leaflet with details of how to order and other useful information.

Dinner money for this half term...Please make your payment for school meals if you have not already done so. Please contact the office if you are unsure of the amount you need to pay.

Sainsbury's Active Kids vouchers...Please send in any vouchers as soon as possible, as the deadline for sending them off to Sainsbury's is fast approaching.

Another desperate plea for tissues...Thanks to those who have kindly donated tissues; it is much appreciated. We do still need lots more, so if you are able to bring a box in for use in school we would be very grateful!

Odd shoes!...We have recently had some problems with children having mismatched pairs of shoes, usually through picking up some one else's shoe/shoes after PE etc. Please could you check your child's shoes over the weekend and make sure that they are a matching pair! Like all items of uniform, shoes should be clearly named. Thanks for your help.
