In the post box this week....

This week we have been thinking about whether our lives are built on solid foundations..

Yes, I do learn about life from others, one step at a time. My Grandad died a few days ago and my mum said "Put the past behind you" so I thought and so I do learn from others (to help me with my problems)

I don't think everyone has their life built on solid foundations because different people have different thoughts but everyone should have love. I think I have a solid foundation. I believe in God to help my Grandad in God's garden and heaven.

Life has lots of meanings but to me it means love, belief, joy, fun and most of all it's all life.

James, Carroll, 4B

Is my life built on solid foundations? I'm not sure because we all just take things for granted but then again I would say yes because I have a good family and friends.

To me, life means living. We only have one life so we should use it and treasure it well.

Jacob, Carroll, 4CH

Nearly there!

I am really pleased to report the build is nearing completion and it can't come quickly enough for us. The new entrance to the school looks amazing but it's so frustrating that we can't use it. I am told we may have it handed back at some stage next week so I will keep you informed!

It's been a good first full week back and the children are now getting back into the routine of school life. It's always hard to focus on work after Christmas and the staff in school feel the same way too. This week in Thoughtful Time we have been thinking about the parable of the two builders which is very ironic when you consider our current building works. We have been thinking about whether our lives are built on solid foundations and how we can learn from others and more importantly from God.

I was very pleased with the response we have had so far to the SDP evening on the 25th January. I really think it's important that you are involved in the development of the school and would love to see some more of you there to share your views. It won't take too long and we will be supplying wine and nibbles! What more could you possibly want on a winter's evening!

We have already had enough replies to go to the hat for the old ICT suite computers so I will be in touch next week about how we are going to do that.

We have also formed a great link with Aldershot Town Football Club which lets you get a free child's ticket when you purchase an adults one. We are keen to develop this link as there are many other benefits of the scheme. If you're interested, see the advert on the back of this newsletter to find out more.

It only remains for me to wish you all a wonderful weekend and I look forward to catching up with you all next week when I will hopefully be announcing the re-opening of the main entrance! Mr Blackburn & the staff.
